Candidates Give Own Background

(Continued from Page B-6) a Master of Business Administration degree, my education is in the top 10 per cent of California CPAs. The addition of an expert, professional accountant to the school board will strengthen its fiscal function and increase its financial responsibility to the people of Torrance."

Beverly E. Schwartz:
 "I have devoted many years to studying educational problems, and have attended all Board of Education meetings for the past year. Experience as a teacher has given me insight into the classroom situations they are faced with. Through working with my own children and those of other families, I can ably represent the point of view of the average concerned mother. In addition, I will be able to evaluate an item on its own merits, regardless of who endorses it."

Richard A. Sullivan, M.D.:
 "I am a professional person with a reasonable degree of education which includes some background training in educational field. I have been active in community activities and thus have a certain knowledge and feeling for the area which I seek to serve. As a parent of three young children I have a vested interest in the development of the best possible school system."

Lawrence E. Townsend:
 "I am an experienced public administrator. By the nature of my work I have been trained to analyze problems and to make decisions. I believe that my voting record locally as chairman of the Civil Service Board and my conduct as member of the Public Personnel Association speaks for itself."

"I feel that my training and experience, coupled with my natural keen interest in our school system as a father; together with my years of experience of working as part of a team effort should insure my ability to make a positive contribution to the school district."

Donald E. Wilson:
 "I have professionally served as an educational consultant to several school districts in Southern California and have participated in formal evaluation of such districts. My profession would be an asset, I believe, on the school board."

Supervisors Okay Agency Compromise

County Supervisors have approved a compromise settlement affecting relocation of utilities in the City of Los Angeles caused by Flood Control District projects.

It calls for the district to reimburse the Department of Water and Power for the district's share in moving water and electric facilities for projects built prior to May 2, 1963.

It also establishes administrative procedures for a division of financial responsibility for jobs undertaken since 1963 and for those to be built in the future.

The two agencies have disputed their respective responsibilities for financing utility relocations for many years. Various claims and legal actions have been filed against each other.

"The compromise formula will settle past differences and sets up machinery for orderly construction of present and future district projects without danger of costly delays and interruptions arising from relocation disputes," Supervisor Kenneth Hahn said.
